1. Matcha

- Average selling price: $10-50
- Monthly global Google search volume: 799,000 ("matcha")
- Top countries: United States, Mexico, France
- Ideal target audience: nutrition and caffeine enthusiasts
- Supplier suggestions: Ikeda Tea World (USA), Alibaba, Alveus

Matcha green tea is one of the few trending eCommerce products that have stayed relevant long after their initial popularity.

According to Google Trends, searches for "matcha" have experienced a gradual upward trend in the recent years.

Considering the growing potential for matcha's market share in the beverage industry, our company would like to capitalize on the health and wellness benefits matcha provides customers.

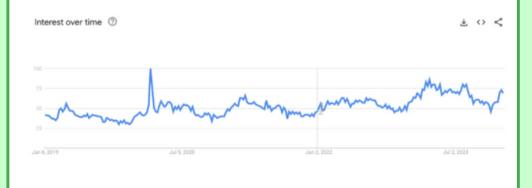

Our product line includes three variations of our matcha that will be a crucial aspect of the company's marketing strategies to consumers.

PRODUCT

2. Matcha

If you've been to a coffee shop in recent years, you've seen matcha. It's a finely ground, vibrant great tea powder that's become a popular wellness product.

Data shows that the term "matcha" receives one million searches per month. The graph below also shows the increased interest in matcha from 2019-2024.

Here are a few ways online stores can market matcha products:

- Highlight its health benefits: Emphasize the nutritional value and advantages of matcha, such as its high antioxidant content and potential to improve mental clarity, to appeal to health-conscious consumers.
- Collaborate with influencers: Partner with food, health, and lifestyle influencers to showcase matcha's versatility in recipes, smoothies, lattes, and other innovative uses, reaching a wider audience.
- Offer product samples: Encourage potential customers to try matcha by offering free samples or organizing tasting events to familiarize them with the unique flavor and texture.
- Educate consumers: Create engaging content that educates consumers about the history, production process, and proper preparation techniques of matcha, fostering appreciation and loyalty to the product.

Shopify and Hostinger Tutorials both ranked Matcha as one one of the top health and wellness E-Commerce products in 2024.

With an increase in Google searches from 2018–2024, there are countless opportunities to enter the market.
